

"LOOKING" Character Descriptions

Character	Description
ANDY	Andy is a really nice guy though he doesn't think so, he thinks that he's a little boring and ordinary. He runs a self-storage business, which is not doing well. He is not keen on going to bars and having one-night stands. He would like to meet someone special with whom he can have a relationship. He and Matt have been friends for a few years. He decides to place a "Personal Ad".
MATT	Matt is the opposite of Andy. He is a radio announcer and an extrovert. He is gregarious and outgoing and boasts about having lots of casual sex. Initially he cannot understand why Andy does not have the same attitude. However, things change over the course of the play.
VAL	Val has been divorced for 6 years and is an OR Nurse who has decided it's time for a special person in her life. She has the romantic notion that "it will just happen". Despite this, encouraged by her friend, Nina, she decides to respond to Andy's "Personal Ad".
NINA	Nina is single and a police officer. Her lifestyle differs greatly from Val's. She's a bit of a girl around town and has had a number of flings, including one with a married guy. She certainly is not looking for the "man of her dreams", though at times she's disgusted with her own behavior.